

Fascination

Upstairs at Jacques Cabaret, the glittery drag queens reign supreme. But descend to Jacques Underground, the Bay Village bar's grittier subterranean spot, and you'll now find Fascination — a new monthly nightlife option for Boston's leather and kink community. Created by Boston actor and artist Michael Flowers and DJ Colby Drasher, Fascination channels the spirit of William Friedkin's flick "Cruising," John Rechy's novel "City of Night," and the kind of music you might have heard at the late great Manray to create a singular experience that feels edgy and erotic. (There's no dress code, but gear and creative dress are encouraged.) Dark electronic music pulses and wild video projections entrance. We're — well, fascinated.
